Group Life Insurance Election to Continue to Age 65 Provisions and Instructions

Eligible Employees

Employees must be eligible to retire under a Government-sponsored pension plan and be insured under the Group Life Insurance Plan on the date immediately preceding retirement.

Coverage under this election to continue provision may continue until the end of the month in which the employee turns age 65.

An employee may terminate his/her coverage by giving one month's written notice to Plannera Pensions & Benefits.

Premiums are payable on a monthly basis and are not prorated for a partial month of coverage.

Premiums are to be deducted from the monthly pension payment. In extenuating circumstances, other methods for paying premiums may be discussed with Plannera Pensions & Benefits.

Employee Coverage

Coverage for retired employees includes the following:

- employee life
- dependent life (spouse and dependent children)
- accidental death and dismemberment (employee life only)

The maximum level of employee life insurance coverage that may be continued is that amount in effect immediately prior to the employee's date of retirement, less the value of the Retirement Death Benefit Certificate.

Spousal Optional Coverage

Employee life insurance must be continued in order for a spouse to be eligible to continue his/her spousal optional life insurance coverage.

Coverage for a spouse of a retired employee includes the following:

- spousal optional life

The maximum level of spousal optional coverage that may be continued is that amount in effect immediately prior to the employee's date of retirement.

Spousal optional coverage will terminate immediately upon the termination of the employee life insurance coverage continued under the Election to Continue provision.

Conversion Option

The Group Life Insurance policy contains a Conversion Option.

Where the insurance of a retiree and/or spouse terminates, that individual will be entitled to purchase an individual policy from the insurance carrier for any amount of insurance up to a maximum of the level in effect immediately prior to the termination of coverage under the Group Life Insurance Plan.

Written application of an individual policy must be submitted to the insurance carrier within 31 days of termination of coverage under the Group Life Insurance Plan.

Individuals should contact Plannera Pensions & Benefits in writing prior to the termination of coverage if interested in the Conversion Option.

Designation of Beneficiary

Employees and spouses electing to continue coverage must each complete and attach a separate Designation of Beneficiary form to this form.

Designations may be changed at any time upon the completion of a new Designation of Beneficiary form.

Employee Responsibility

Where Spousal Optional Life Insurance is in effect, the employee must advise Plannera Pensions & Benefits immediately of any change in marital status.
